MUCH NEWS

Work to Begin on the New Car Department of the Illinois Central.

THE NEW CHIEF CLERK

The Big Picnic Will Take Place Tomorrow Without Fail—Chief Clerk Morris Leaves.

NEWS FROM ILLINOIS CENTRAL

All the arrangements for the Illinois Central employes big picnic tomorrow at Kuttawa have been completed, and it will be even more successful than that of last year. The company has allowed twelve coaches and one baggage car to accommodate the picnicers and the train will leave Elveth and Broadway at 7:30 sharp. The following persons composing a committee have been appointed to have charge of the excursion: George Bonduant, J. E. Geoghegan, J. C. Martin, C. W. Theobald, E. A. Wheeler, John Schroeder, B. B. Cleary, A. M. Dustin, Henry Fries, M. M. Howitt, V. G. Berry, F. Gardner, Emil Prouss, Ira Landrum, Pat Rogers, A. N. Selts, John McCune and Sam Bingham.

The program for the day is as follows: Sack race, wheelbarrow race, three-legged race, egg race, foot race for boys under fourteen and foot race for girls under fourteen. A wrestling match has also been arranged but the names of the principals are withheld by request. They are well known wood workers and have a reputation as wrestlers and all round athletes. The Wood Workers and Iron Workers did not play at Rowlandton yesterday on account of the weather but will meet tomorrow at the Kuttawa grounds to decide the championship of the shops. There will probably be several speeches made and other numbers arranged for the program.

Mr. L. I. Bumgardner, formerly chief clerk for Master Mechanic M. C. Hannerman, at Clinton, Ill., arrived in the city last night and will accept the position as chief clerk here immediately.

Mr. Chas. Morris will leave tomorrow or Wednesday for Battle Creek, Mich., where he will take a three months' vacation. He will not retain the position of chief clerk but will accept another position, probably in the traffic department where he will have no office work to do. On account of the confinement Mr. Morris' health failed and he finds it necessary to give up office work. His many friends will regret to learn of his departure but will be pleased to learn of his change to a higher office which he has been offered but is not yet ready to make public.

Four coaches and one baggage car were bought into the city this morning on the accommodation from Fulton to be used by the Illinois Central picnicers. There will be another consignment this afternoon or tonight and by tomorrow morning the train will be awaiting the excursionists. The rain today threw a damper over the hopes of the people but it will be remembered that last year a big rain fell the day before the picnic but the next morning was clear and bright. The picnic cannot be postponed and will go even if the elements are out in full force.

Flagman Gibson, who was injured several weeks ago in a difficulty with a negro, is again on duty but has not fully recovered from the injuries he received.

Mr. Thomas Leake, the master carpenter of the entire Illinois Central system, arrived in the city this morning from Chicago to begin work on the burned car shop. The company has decided to rebuild at once and the work of clearing away the debris has already gained great headway. The site will be ready for the foundation by the last of the week and the work of rebuilding will be commenced immediately afterward. The building will be the exact duplicate of the one burned with possibly a few improvements and changes.

The employees in the freight car repairing departments are working a little short but the main part of the force is working. The fire effected this department only and the machines and blacksmith shops are running with full force and have all the work that can be attended to.

The planing mill and other departments of the Illinois Central burned Saturday morning will be rebuilt at once. Supt. Wallace and Roadmaster Galvin arrived Saturday evening and at once put a force of men to work, clearing away the debris.

The local officials say that they investigated the run made by the fire.

"They come to the depot and fall around among the ladies and other waiting passengers and raise trouble in general," he said. "Most of them are from neighboring cities, and come to Paducah to get laid. I made one take a friend out in the woods yesterday and stay with him about three hours, until his train arrived. It is not customary to arrest common drunks, if the men intend to leave the city but some of them are so noisy and offensive that it is necessary to lock them up."

FLOATER FOUND.

Partially Dressed Body Proves to Be Jas. M. Frazer, Formerly of Todd County.

He Was First Missed Last Night—The Inquest Will Be Held This Afternoon Sometime—Committed Suicide.

Marshal Sanberry, of Brookport, was crossing the river this morning on route to the city when he ran across a floater in the river about fifty feet from the Kentucky side opposite Brookport. He hooked the body and towed it to the bank where he left it and came to town to notify the authorities. Justice R. J. Barber was notified of the find and in company with County Attorney Graves went to the scene to hold an inquest. The floater was a white man about medium build and was naked with the exception of a shirt.

The floater was brought to Nance's undertaking establishment this afternoon at 2:30 and identified by Mr. W. T. Poor, of North Third street, as Rev. James M. Frazer of near Elkton, Todd county.

"There is no mistake about his identity," Mr. Poor remarked, "as he is my father-in-law and left my house only last night. We could find no trace of him although we looked into every conceivable place for him." He was about 32 years of age and had been in Paducah several weeks. His family left his home in Todd county some time ago and went to Jackson, Tenn. He came to this city to look up his daughters, one of whom Mr. Poor married, the other being wife of Dr. Wash Smith, of Broadway.

He has been living with Mr. Poor since his arrival in Paducah and was first missed last night shortly after dark. A search was begun, but they were unable to find any trace of him. He was in the best of health, and it seems the only plausible theory is suicide during temporary aberration.

A San representative called at the home of Mrs. Poor shortly after the body was brought to the city and investigated the case.

Rev. Frazer, it will be remembered, attempted to drown himself several weeks ago at the foot of Jefferson street, but was prevented by several men standing near. The name was then given as Poor but after an investigation it was learned that Mr. Poor and the Rev. Frazer are one and the same.

Mrs. Poor, a daughter by his first wife, said that he had many family troubles and that he had separated from his first wife and had married again only to separate from his second wife a few weeks ago. "His son, too," Mrs. Poor remarked "did not get along with their wives and he did his own troubles. We account for his death in this way and think he had brooded over his trouble until he got out of bed last night and went to the river and drowned himself."

His first wife was a Miss Paulina Prewitt, of Elkton, Ky. He has three children, Dr. Joe Frazer, of Canton, Miss; Robert Frazer, of Woodstock, Miss., and Mrs. Thomas Poor, of Paducah. His second wife was a Miss Maggie Pollak, of Blandville, Ky. from whom he lately separated, and came to this city.

She was born in Paducah about seventy years ago and resided here the greater part of her life. Her health began to fail several years ago and she and her husband, Mr. W. B. Johnston, moved to Florida to live with their son, Mr. Philip Johnston. She left one son, with whom she resided.

OAK GROVE IMPROVEMENTS

The work of filling in the western part of Oak Grove is progressing nicely, and the extensive improvements that have been, and are being, made greatly enhance the beauty of the cemetery. DEPUTY LA RUE'S TROUBLES

Deputy United States Marshal La Rue has lost one of his pipes. Every one who smokes all the time knows what that means. He is daff. He longs for some kind man to approach him and smilingly hand something, saying, "Here's your pipe." Last Friday p. m. is the last time he had it. Since that time he has seen nothing of the small meerschaum in a case, straight stemmed, and well smoked. If you don't believe it, get near it. If the finder will return it, he will "save the genial deputy's life."

COUNTY TUTORS

The Annual Institute Is Now in Session at Longfellow Building.

JAS. HUGHES PRESIDENT

Committees Appointed for the Various Duties to Be Performed—Twenty-Eight Present.

WORK BEGAN THIS AFTERNOON

The county teachers' institute met this morning in the Longfellow school building, on Court and Fifth streets, with an enrollment of 28. The meeting was called to order at about 10:30 with the following officers: County Superintendent Hughes, president; A. M. Ragsdale, vice president; Miss Ruth Parker, secretary; J. S. Ragsdale, instructor.

The meeting opened with exercises and an address by Supt. Hughes. The enrollment was then taken and the organization effected.

The following committees were appointed: Resolutions: Miss Ranney, Mr. Stewart, Miss Holland.

Social Affairs—Mrs. Webb, Mr. Brookshire.

A press committee for each of the papers was appointed.

After the organization and the appointment of the committees the work for the week was outlined by the instructor and the meeting was then adjourned until this afternoon.

The afternoon session was called to order at 1 o'clock and the organization of the county school association was completed. The reading of the papers were then commenced and the remainder of the afternoon session will be consumed in this way.

The institute will remain in session until Friday afternoon when it will be adjourned until next year. Last year's institute was very successful and the present one will probably surpass that of last year. The enrollment is rather slight for the beginning but at least 50 teachers are expected in attendance before the week is out.

Leader of the institute is Dr. J. S. Ragsdale, the only one of the teachers for a time being. He has been known to be a very good teacher. Mr. O'Connell is president of the International Association of Machinists and a vice president of the American Federation of Labor.

PUBLIC OFFICES AND PRIVATE SNAPS.

It is beginning to be suspected that the methods employed in sinking money into the county roads ought to be investigated. It has been openly and unequivocally charged that the county has been made by some one to pay $3 a day for teams, when others just as good could have been obtained from the farmers, who were anxious to hire them, for fifty cents less a day. It is also said that the county has been paying for bridges, culverts and similar improvements that were unnecessary and were built only for the purpose of permitting some one to get in a "graft." Some of the magistrates have in the past occupied good positions receiving pay from the county, and while there was possibly nothing wrong in this there is a serious question whether or not such magistrates would have secured the positions if they had not been magistrates, and voted to give the men jobs who in turn gave them jobs. Turn about is fair play, it is true, but if a magistrate by his vote helps give a man the place of road overseer, it does not necessarily follow that the overseer should in return give him a sinecure that imposes unnecessary expense on the county, and perhaps at the same time inflicts on the taxpayers an incompetent man. There has been too much of this "you scratch my back and I'll scratch yours" in both the county and the city politics in the past, and it is time that the light of investigation were thrown on some of the things permitted by the county board of magistrates, and the men they have elected to fill some of the county offices. It might at least make some of them a little more careful in small matters like hiring teams from their friends at $3 a day when they could get them from some one else at $2.50.

It has been charged that county school trustees all over the state have been accustomed to use their positions for the advancement of their own interests or those of their friends. The Lexington Herald remarks, ancient this alleged abuse, of privilege: "In certain districts trustees are elected because of promises to employ or appoint certain teachers; and it is undoubtedly true that among the thousands of trustees scattered over Kentucky some have been, and are, corrupt. During the deplorable contest of the past six or seven years it has been openly charged that the salaries of teachers have been tolled for political purposes, just as the meager wages of the attendants and employees in our lunatic asylums have been levied upon and tribute exacted. How widespread this corruption is, how cruel and exacting these tributes had been we have no means of knowing. It is not often that such a case as this is presented. It is not often that there is any exposure concerning such matters."

The Louisville Post, under the caption "No Danger of Negro Rule," says: "The census bulletin giving the population of Kentucky by counties, and classifying the males, females, native and foreign born, and white and colored, shows how ridiculous would be an attempt to thrust a race question into Kentucky politics. Out of a total population of 2,146,224, there are only 284,865 negroes. In not a single city or county in Kentucky are the negroes in the majority. They are powerless to control a single local government. Certainly, there is not the slightest danger that the 1,861,359 white people of Kentucky will ever be subjected to the rule of the 284,865 negroes. With the negro vote divided, and a large number of the negroes failing to vote, as in the last two elections in Kentucky, there is little doubt that a majority of the white people of Kentucky are against the Democratic machine."

The Memphis Commercial Appeal says of the Maryland platform: "It is comforting at least to see that the platform adopted is sensible and practical. All the old crazes have been eliminated. The money question, the assaults on the supreme court, the initiative and referendum, the government control of everything and all the other fatuous theories which have been injected into Democratic platforms have been ignored and allowed to sleep in peace. On the question of expansion not a word was said. This is eminently proper. Expansion is no longer an issue. It is an accomplished fact and it has no more place in a platform of the present day than has the question of the Louisiana purchase or the annexation of Texas."

The quick recognition from Sept. Wallace, of the Illinois Central, of the efficient services of the fire department at the fire Saturday morning is characteristic of the officials of that road. The Illinois Central, while a corporation, and all corporations are supposed to be soulless, is never slow to acknowledge a service, and the prompt testimonial of the company's appreciation of the good work done by the department, employees and others who assisted, is a fitting tribute to our excellent fire protection, and goes a long way towards lightening the arduous work of the boys when called to risk their lives to save others property. The action of the railroad, through its popular superintendent, has received the most favorable comment on all sides.

If Sanitary officer Schroeder is fired for "neglect of duty," which is only an euphemism employed by the council to let him down easy, he will have a mighty good come back at them. There are several more heads that might have to come off for the same kind of "neglect of duty." What the council will have to do is to get out its little bucket of whitewash again.

The apparent success of Senator Mc D. Ferguson indicates a victory for the machine wing of the Democratic party. Senator Ferguson belongs to "the gang," and is one of the daddies of the "reward fund" graft. He will run up against plenty of opposition in the convention next Saturday.

The Memphis Commercial Appeal thinks that the quickest way to settle litigation these days is to follow the example of the Clarksville lawyers who during a trial temporarily abandoned the practice of law to practice with their guns.

It is reported that an oil well is being sunk in the Clark's river section. They have bored for so many things in that locality they are liable to be boring for "pure rye" next.

Even the railroad freight cars seem to have disappeared under the baleful effects of the drought. In the west grain is rotting in the field because there are no cars to carry it off.

A number of Spanish officers continue to tell how it all happened at Santiago. It was not known before that they had eyes in the back of their heads.

Some city officials evidently find "whitewash" more to their liking than pure Ohio river water.

It is now up to Aguinaldo to express an opinion on the Schley-Sampson controversy.

Disappointed again! President Kruger has not decided that he will visit America.

The board of health continues to meet—tomorrow.

REVENUES INCREASE.

THERE IS NO DECREASE SINCE THE NEW LAW WENT INTO EFFECT.

Washington, D. C., August 5.—Congress thought it was reducing the government revenues by $40,000,000 when it repealed a number of internal revenue taxes last session.

For some unexplained reason, and Secretary Gage himself is at a loss to explain, the government revenues for July show an increase of about $3,400,000 over July 1900. Expenditures have decreased over $1,600,000 from July last year, so that instead of a deficit of $4,000,000 for July, as in July a year ago, the July statement this year will show a surplus of about $15,000, unless some emergency requiring an unexpected expenditure should arise. Today the internal revenue receipts for July, despite the supposed reduction in internal taxation, amounted to $28,358,190 for July, an increase over July last year of $767,501, while customs aggregated $21,363,963, an increase of $1,461,691. Miscellaneous receipts were $2,178,186, an increase of $128,986. Thus, notwithstanding the gallant effort of congress to prevent a surplus in revenues by reducing taxation, every source of revenue shows an increase for July and the unprecedented occurs—a small surplus for the first month of the fiscal year. It looks, then, as if congress might have to reduce revenues further.

LITIGATION OVER.

THE HILLMAN CONTROVERSY IS FINALLY SETTLED BY LAWYERS.

The litigation involving the large Hillman estate in Marshall and Livingston counties has been compromised and all matters between the different parties have been adjusted and orders for confirmation of the sale have been agreed upon. St. Louis capitalists have now become the owners of the 40,000 acres of land between the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers which they propose to divide into a number of small farms. A part of this property will be used as an iron furnace in connection with the Grand Rivers plants. The attorneys effecting the compromise were A. P. Crockett of the Hopkinsville bar and J. S. Pilcher and T. M. Stegar of Nashville, Tenn.

EDDYVILLE RAILROAD.

CHANCES GOOD FOR A LINE THROUGH LYON COUNTY SOON.

Lyon county has good prospects for a new railroad that is expected to develop much good timber, ore and coal land.

Mr. E. M. Barnes, of Cleveland, O., representing the syndicate that is undertaking to build the mineral belt line from Carrsville on the Ohio river through Livingston, Crittenden, Lyon and Trigg counties, to form a part of the through line from St. Louis to Norfolk, Va., met the Eddyville Commercial club and submitted a proposition to build the road through the city of Eddyville. His proposition was referred to the advisory board of the club, and they now await its under advisement.

The club is negotiating with Mr. Barnes and hopes that an arrangement may be made that the people can accept.

The Denver & Rio Grande Railroad, with its numerous branches penetrating the Rockies, has two distinct and separate lines across the mountains. Tickets reading via the "Bonnie Line" between Denver and Grand Junction, in connection with the Rio Grande Western Ry. between Grand Junction and Ogden, are available over the Denver & Rio Grande either via its main line through Leadville and Glenwood Springs or via the line over Marshall Pass and through the Black Canon. Tourists to and from Salt Lake City, Ogden or San Francisco will find it to their advantage to have their tickets read in both directions via "The Bonnie Line of the World," thus being able to use one of the above routes going and the other returning. THE POET WARMS UP.

Old King Sol is a runny old guy,
And a funny old guy he is;
He calls for his rays and he works up a blaze
And he raises the mercuric.

Old King Sol is a runny old chap,
As funny as funny can be;
He scorch's the earth in an excess of mirth,
And he chalketh a high degree.

Old King Sol is a funny old joss
And a funny old joss he is;
We'd all like his fun not quite so well done,
For a roast is never funny.

Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Last summer when the days were long
And every moment set to song,
She made an honest lover sad,
For she disclaimed the farmer lad.

This summer bankers got the mit,
The Pierpont Morgans have to git,
For vegetables are the fad,
And she will wed the famer lad.

Observations

....at Random

When one of the Washington correspondents is feeling gloomy and cast down over what he regards as unmerited criticism from his chiefs in the "home office," his friends usually try to cheer him up by telling him of a sad incident that happened to ex-Assistant Postmaster General Perry S. Heath when the latter was on Newspaper Row in Washington, says an exchange. Mr. Heath had labored long and painfully over a particularly able dispatch. When he sent it to his paper he heaved a sigh of relief and felt proud. He remained in this happy and peaceful frame of mind for about an hour, when he was suddenly brought down to earth by receiving the following severe rebuke by wire: "Your story does not fit our headlines. How is this?"

Edwin C. Madden, the third assistant postmaster general, is waging a relentless and what promises to be a successful war on publications that abuse the second class mail privilege, says the New York Times. As a result he has attracted considerable attention from the publishing world. The stories of his early career are beginning to appear, as a matter of course.

Eugene Jeroloman, a publisher, says that not so many years ago, when Madden was a small pay clerk in a western postoffice, he, Jeroloman, who was located in that town, had occasion to make complaint about some rules of the postoffice department. He was referred to Madden. At the end of the conversation Madden said jokingly: "Never mind, when I am the head of a department down in Washington I'll have all these troublesome rules straightened out." It is doubtful if he had at that time any serious idea of ever being in Washington. Now he is practically the head of the auditing department of Uncle Sam's postal service.

WOULD HAVE COST HIM HIS LIFE.

Oscar Bowman, Lebanon, Ky., writes: "I have been using FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE and take great pleasure in stating it gave me permanent cure of kidney disease which certainly would have cost me my life." Take none but Foley's.

DOVE SHOOTING POPULAR.

Dove shooting is now the vogue with local sportsmen, and they are having good luck in hunting the birds about the city. The open season for doves began a day or two ago. The birds are said to be plentiful this year.

EXCURSION TO CHICAGO.

The annual excursion on the I. C. will be given this year August 20th. Fare for the round trip, $5.00. Tickets are good up to August 28th.

IS FROM VIRGINIA.

"Uncle Dan" Humphreys, of Virginia, is on a visit to a son here. He is a typical darkey of the olden times, and has his hair and beard plaited, wears brogans, and is duly suspicious of any one who tried to talk to him. He says he will live and die in "Old Virginia."

COOL DAYS IN MICHIGAN AND HOW TO ENJOY THEM.

Why stay in the sweltering heat where you are, when by a few hours travel on a fast train a delightfully cool temperature may be enjoyed with nights in which a blanket is necessary.

If you can afford to go, consider the advantages of a few weeks stay at Potoskey, Charlevoix, Traverse City, or some other of the numerous cool, delightful summer places in Michigan reached by the Pere Marquette railroad. The best train leaves Chicago at 7:30 p. m. every day except Sunday, with Pullman sleeper, and arrives at the Northern resorts early next morning. Your home agent can sell you excursion tickets to the Michigan resorts at reduced rates. Ask him about it, and get a copy of the pamphlets issued by the Pere Marquette Co., describing the various resorts, with hotel rates, etc.

If you cannot get one at home send to the Michigan Central railroad ticket agent at Chicago, or direct to H. P. Moeller, G. P. A., Detroit, Mich.

Morgan's Only Rival.
J. Pierpont Morgan is admittedly at the head of American finance, but men are not waiting to say that E. H. Harriman is a close second if not actually a rival for the leadership. Mr. Harriman is one of the most astute railroad men of the United States. It is said of him that he carries a railroad map of the country in his head.

New Way of Reporting Ships.

The plan now on foot for reporting vessels bound to or from Europe embraces the establishing of a wireless

NANTUCKET SHOALS LIGHTSHIP. telegraph station on the lightship at Nantucket shoals, which is the last and first bit of America seen by passengers.

A Leader in Journalism.

To his two successful properties, the New York Times and the Chattanooga Times, Mr. Adolph S. Ochs has just added The Times of Philadelphia. Mr. Ochs is one of the leading figures of present day journalism. When he took possession of his first two ventures, they were in almost moribund condition. Now they are both flourishing. Mr. Ochs began his journalistic career as a carrier at the age of 11. He is now 43.

New Head of the B. and O.
Mr. Leonard F. Love, the new president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, is quite young to hold so important a position. Mr. Love was born in Illinois 43 years ago. He has worked his way up from a humble beginning in the railroad business. Mr. Love began as an assistant on the engineering corps of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Training Canary Birds.
In the canary breeding establishments of Germany only the male birds are valued, for the females never sing. The method of training the birds to sing is to put them in a room where there is an automatic whistle, which they all strive to imitate. The breeder listens to the efforts of the birds and picks out the most apt pupils, which are then placed in another room for further instruction.

Deals in Sugar Shares.
Financial reports show that no less than 12,251,283 shares of Sugar common stock were bought and sold on the New York Exchange during the year 1900. This is the same thing as saying that the entire common stock changed hands forty times over.

Eccentric But Respected.
George Smith, locally known as "Doc" Smith, died at his home in Omaha recently. He had lived in Omaha forty-six years, and as a civil engineer had been a prominent citizen and officeholder. He was eccentric in many of his characteristics, but was a man who was universally respected.

OTHER CASES TRIED TODAY

Bob Hays and Boone Willoughby, two young men who were with Buckskin Bill the season just closed, filled up on something stronger than water yesterday and started down Third street under the fond delusion that they were in the wild and woolly west, on the trail of pesky Redskins. They each had a pistol, and began the performance near Clark and Third.
Constable Patton heard several shots fired in front of his house and ran out, finding Hays, who attempted to shoot the officer, or rather pointed the pistol at him twice and threatened it, and when the constable's dog rushed to the rescue Hays began shooting at the animal, but proved that he is not much of a shot, as he didn't hit him once. The constable concluded he had caught a tartar of the most truculent type, and gave up his subjugation as a bad job. The bloodthirsty pair were arrested later on, and were charged in the police court this morning with carrying concealed weapons. They offered no defense, and were fined $50 and costs each and given twenty days in jail, and Hays was fined $50 and costs for flourishing the pistol. Willoughby was a soldier in the show, it seems, and still wears his uniform. The young men have by this time found out that the show is over.
Judge Sanders does not think that the police have any right to arrest a drunken man who is inside of a house, unless he is creating a disturbance. Tom Moore and Fred Upenhouse, who came in on a boat, and had been worked extra time, were asleep in a West Court street house, and were arrested by the police for being drunk, having gone to sleep in a parlor. Judge Sanders dismissed the warrants.
The warrant against Jim Taylor Will Taylor and Robert White, charged with a breach of the peace, in which one of the Taylors was slightly cut, was fled away, some of the defendants not being in court.
Will Roberts is the name of a small boy who has been in many scrapes before. He was charged with throwing rocks and other missiles into the Chinese laundry, and with yelling "Chinamen eat rats" at the pigtails. He made no defense, and was fined $5 and costs. Judge Sanders in commenting on the case said Roberts is one of the worst boys in town, and that he heard no effort was made to control him, and that he ought to be taken from his parents and placed in a reform school. People were always complaining of him and his brother, and there was then an old fine against him that had been suspended during good behavior. The court ordered both fines enforced against him and if he does not pay them, to be locked up and made to carry water for the chain gang.
Rice Miller, colored, an old offender, said he only grabbed his wife to keep her from hitting him with an ax. The court had heard the same delusive tune before, and assessed a $30 fine against Rice.
The breach of the peace case against Messrs. J. T. Willett and Tom Everts was left open. They had trouble over the hiring of a buggy, but no blows were struck. There is other testimony.
Jim Porter, colored, was fined $10 and costs for striking his father-in-law, John Parker. They fell out over the rent, a portion of which the son-in-law claimed the old man should pay.
A. B. Shoat is the name of a young man employed at the telephone exchange who was charged with having set fire to some straw in the buggy of Pete Pullen, colored. He was seen coming from behind the buggy just as the straw blazed, and remarked, "Now I guess the s— of a b— will wake up. I've set him afire." He was discharged by the telephone company, and Judge Sanders fined him $30 and sentenced him to twenty days in jail, saying that a man who would do a trick like that was liable to do anything.
A breach of ordinance case against Jim Scott was continued until tomorrow.
Annie Copeland, a white woman, was fined $10 and costs for using insulting language.
Native Material in Capitol Building When finished the Arkansas state capitol will be a permanent exhibit of the state's resources if the suggestions of the architect and building commission are followed. The basement or first story will be of Arkansas granite, upper stories of Arkansas marble and woodwork of Arkansas timber.
